

THE GOOD

EVENTS THAT MAKE OUR COMMUNITY BETTER

Meals on Wheels of Greenville received a $7,500 grant from the Bank of America Charitable Foundation. The donation will enable Meals on Wheels to provide over 1,600 meals for homebound individuals in Greenville County.

Bank of America's Brittany Hilbert and Luke Barnett with Meals on Wheels executive director Catriona Carlisle and director of development Lorain Crowl.

Independent insurance agency ECM Solutions recently raised and donated $15,000 to Pendleton Place after holding a 5K race. More than 150 runners participated in the race to benefit the nonprofit that works to keep children safe and support families in crisis with prevention, assessment and intervention.

The Upstate chapter of the American Advertising Federation (AAF) is seeking a local nonprofit beneficiary for its annual public service initiative and is accepting applications. Designed for nonprofits that have some marketing budget but limited resources to make those dollars impactful, the AAF Greenville public service program boasts an engaged membership of marketing and advertising professionals who are willing to donate their time and services. Visit aafgreenville.org/public-service for an application. Applications are due by Nov. 30.

The Chapman Foundation and Sheen Magazine celebrated life, survival and purpose at the Pynkalycious Breast Cancer Awareness Walk on Oct. 3. The 4K walk began at the Nirvana Cultural Center in Fountain Inn and ended at the Younts Center for Performing Arts. The event raised funds for breast cancer survivors and research, benefitting the Bon Secours St. Francis Health System Pearlie Harris Center for Breast Health.

Dr. Paul Kountz, Dana Hagy, London Whitson, Pearlie Harris, Regina Brooks-Gilmore, Alicia Landreth and Kathy Dailey.

DOLLARS
MAKE CHANGE